MINERAL RESOURCES NEAR US.

The close proximity of Carson to the great Comstock has hitherto, we believe, had the effect of preventing systematic prospecting in the hills to the west of Carson. But the explorations on the Comstock have developed mines far beyond what a few years ago was believed to be the limit of the Comstock lode. The finding of a great bonanza in the Justice, though long believed in by our mining experts, is the latest development of the existence of large ore deposits in a southerly direction from Virginia City and Gold Hill. In a conversation with W. F. Stewart, who is not only a good geologist but has made a thorough exploration of the hills to the west of our town, he expresses the opinion that we have in these hills three distinct mineral belts. The first of these belts contains the North Carson and Eagle Valley mines. The indications and surroundings of the ledge are excellent, and afford presumptive evidence that it is a silver-bearing lode. To the west of the North Carson and Eagle Valley, and at a distance of two and a half miles from town crops out the most remarkable copper mine in the State. It is remarkable, Stewart says, from the fact that wherever it has been tapped in a line extending almost due north and south from Simmons' ranch in Washoe county, via Carson, Hope Valley, and Walker River, it invariably contains vitreous oxide of copper, a beautifully iridescent ore containing free gold and blue-tinted silicates of copper. This is the Houston mine, now being worked under the superintendence of Charles Brown. In the opinion of Mr. Stewart, this will turn out to be a silver mine whenever a proper depth is attained. Still west of the copper belt is an argenteiferous galena belt, the ores being highly impregnated with antimony. This belt has been tapped west of Washoe City by Moore, and also in the vicinity of Genoa by John B. Winters & Co. The same characteristics are noticeable wherever these three veins have been tapped. The same ledge the Paymaster is on west of Reno is presented in the North Carson and Eagle Valley mines. Within eight miles of our town—eight miles to the east—is an immense bed of hematite iron, which will probably yield sixty per cent. It is exceedingly rich and compact ore. There is also in the vicinity a quantity of specular iron. In the same range of hills to the east of the city is an extensive deposit of sulphur which has hitherto been used in acid works in this place and vicinity. The development of the North Carson mine has brought to light what was not known to exist before among us, syenitic granite of the finest quality west of the Rocky Mountains and equal to any in the world. All these indications point to the fact that we possess mineral resources of no mean order near us. No one here expects that we shall find mines here equalling those on the Comstock; but for all that we may develop some that will well repay the labor and capital invested in them. A few productive mines near Carson would add wonderfully to the business of the town, and would promote prospecting to an extent that would eventually result in adding more paying mines to the number.

SENTENCED FOR LIFE.—A dispatch from Fresno, California, of October 22d says:

In the District Court yesterday the motion for a new trial was heard in the case of Granice, who was found guilty of the murder of Madden and sentenced by a jury last July to imprisonment for life. After hearing the arguments the court took the motion under advisement until 9 o'clock this morning, when a new trial was refused, and the prisoner sentenced to imprisonment for life.

Madden was the editor of a paper at Fresno, and was assassinated by Granice for some remarks derogatory to the character of his mother.

When acid has been dropped on any article of clothing, apply liquid ammonia to kill the acid, then apply chloroform to restore the color. Before laying the carpet, if moths are suspected, it is well to rub the boards over with turpentine, sprinkling with very dilute carbolic acid, about a teaspoonful to a gallon of water, is also a good precaution. This last should be rubbed over the walls before the paper is put on.

LUNATICS AND LIQUOR.—On the occasion of a recent visit of a party of prominent citizens of Montreal to the new lunatic asylum which has been established by the Sisters of Providence near that city, Dr. Howard, the medical superintendent of the institution, made some remarks upon his method of treatment which will probably excite surprise among a good many of those who have made a special study of mental disease. Dr. Howard said that, in his opinion, it was impossible to treat lunatics and cure them without liquor. He had tried it, and found no medicine that could be substituted for brandy, nothing which would add in such a material manner to the brain substance. Dr. Howard's theory is not new, for the most ancient writers on insanity believed in stimulation, and applied it in the treatment of the insane; but the modern practice runs generally to the use of sedatives. The asylum under Dr. Howard's charge has been opened for the reception of patients only six weeks, and he says thirty-two of his patients have already been discharged cured, while upon his books he has the names of ninety more for whose ultimate recovery he has strong hopes. There were altogether under treatment 417 patients.

BRAVE WOMEN.—About 5 o'clock this morning Mrs. Eliza Bergin and her daughter Annie, who occupy a room in the Branch House, on the corner of Sacramento and Sansome streets, were awakened by a noise in their room, and discovered two men, named Wilson and Fitzgerald, investigating the contents of their bureau drawers, while a man by the name of O'Neil stood at the door keeping watch. Mrs. Bergin jumped out of bed, and presenting a revolver at them, ordered the intruders to leave or she would blow the tops of their heads off. Upon hearing this admonishment the three started out and ran down the stairs. She gave the alarm, and the burglars seeing that they could not escape by the front door, ran back and locked themselves in a room occupied by Williams, when they hurriedly disrobed and got into bed. Officer Peckinpaugh was summoned, and brought the trio to the city Prison, where charges of burglary were entered against them.—S. F. Examiner, Oct. 21.

ACCIDENT AT KNIGHT'S LANDING.—By a gentleman who arrived in the city from Knight's Landing last evening we learn that a young man was accidentally shot at that place about half past 2 yesterday afternoon. It appears that he had been working on a ranch a short distance from the Landing, and yesterday started for the town, hunting along the way. On arriving he evidently concluded to leave his gun, etc., concealed in the brush a short distance from the Yolo House, while he transacted his business, but while he was concealing his gun it was accidentally discharged, the contents striking him on the cheek and tearing it completely off. He called to a man who was near by, and then ran to the hotel, falling about the time he reached it. Physicians were summoned, who dressed his wound as soon as possible, and he was still alive when our informant left. The unfortunate man did not appear to have any acquaintances at the Landing. Sacramento Record-Union, Oct. 22.

CORNISHMAN SHOT.—About 12 o'clock on Monday night a Cornishman named Grey was conveyed to Dr. Harrenberg's office, on Meadow Valley street for medical treatment. The doctor found he had a scalp wound in the head, caused by a bullet; also several severe bruises about the head produced by a pistol or a piece of wood, and a bullet hole through his hat. His wounds were dressed and stitched, and he was conveyed to his home and yesterday was feeling very comfortable. The doctor says the wounds were enough to kill an ordinary person. Grey refused to tell any of the particulars of the occurrence or who injured him, but it is reported that he was found in the wrong bed at the wrong time, with a female that was some one else's wife.—Pioche Record Oct. 20.

THE MURDERER SHARKEY.—Sharkey, the New York murderer, has played his cards well. The New York authorities have been after him with their best men, but they could not kidnap him, and they could not openly seize him on Spanish soil. He has now assumed the name of "Dr. Francisco G. Campbell," and, armed with a passport presented by Count Valmaseda himself, he has left Havana for Spain, with the intention of entering the service of King Alfonso, and will doubtless be heard of fighting the Carlists some day. He has learned to speak Spanish, and is said to have thoroughly reformed his habits. A more desperate murderer, however, never existed.

ELKO'S FINANCIAL CONDITION.—The Elko Independent publishes the quarterly report of the County Auditor. That journal says of it:

The showing is very favorable and reflects credit upon the management of the county finances. The revenue to be derived from all sources for the present fiscal year, will liquidate the entire floating debt, leaving a surplus of $12,000 or $15,000 to meet current expenses for the remainder of the year. After squaring up all interest accounts, the redemption fund will receive an unusual benefit also. Every tax-payer in the county should peruse the report carefully.

Tax Pinney investigation continues at San Francisco, but is conducted so secretly that no one can learn what is going on.

THE HARVARD CHURCH, of Charlestown, Mass., to which Professor William Everett, of Harvard University, has been called as pastor, was established in 1818 by secession from the old Congregational parish, and it has had three pastors only since its foundation—the Rev. Drs. James Walker and George E. Ellis and the Rev. Charles E. Grinnell. Edward Everett, father of the pastor elect, was for many years a member and a constant attendant of this church during Dr. Walker's ministry, and for many years it had the leading position in point of social influence.

REMARKABLE wedding notice from the Milford (Massachusetts) Ray: "The large blue eyes of the bride seemed to be brighter than ever, and, with her light hair, formed a suitable contrast to her husband's black hair and eyes. This matrimonial alliance has not been entered into unadvisedly; it has been in contemplation for about two years, and meets with the most cordial approval of all the relatives and friends of the newly married couple. The bride's mother regards her new son-in-law as if he were her own son. He will continue, as heretofore, to be employed in the vegetable ivory button factory."

DANGEROUSLY ILL.—The Enterprise of yesterday says: District Attorney Will Campbell is in a very critical condition. For some days he has been confined to his bed with his old complaint of lung disease, and has been gradually growing worse. Night before last he was unable to get any rest whatever, and was spitting blood copiously. Yesterday morning he was very weak, and his state is such as to justify the gravest fears for the result on the part of his friends.

On Wednesday evening Castro Wolf, better known as "Bully" Wolf, fell dead on the stairway of the clubroom on the corner of Kearny and California streets, San Francisco. The death is supposed to have been caused by an affection of the heart, as he was in customary health and spirits when his sudden death occurred. Deceased was an old resident of the city and widely known.

ANOTHER STAGE ROBBERY.—A dispatch dated Portland, Oregon, Oct. 22, says: The Northwestern Stage Company's stage was stopped six miles from Umatilla last night by highwaymen and the treasure-box taken out and broken open and money, papers and letters stolen. Citizens are on the trail of the robbers.

THE Boston Transcript, instead of the traditional rooster that is often placed at the head of the column which announces a political victory, places over the news from Ohio a representation of the American twenty-dollar gold coin.

THE Cincinnati Enquirer says that "General Cary, like Governor Allen, will be remembered by the Democracy of Ohio in the future, and their great services will receive appropriate recognition." We suggest a paper dinner service.

ACQUITTED.—Johnny Tuers, the negro minstrel, on trial in San Francisco last week for the murder of James Dowling, a theatrical manager, on the 29th of January, 1873, was acquitted by the jury.

COMPLETED.—The Eureka and Palisade Railroad was completed to Eureka on Friday evening, when a train of cars entered the town amid the rejoicings of the people of the Base Range.

EX-MINISTER BANCROFT, the historian, has arrived in Washington, where he expects to pass the winter. He has resumed his former practice of taking daily rides on horseback from the Capitol to the Soldiers' Home.
